DOINGS ABOUT THE COUNTY OFFICES

The suit of Alma L. Wanek against Otto J. Wanek has been dismissed in the superior court. The notice of dismissal was filed in the county clerk's office yesterday.

Marriage Licenses
Henry James Douglas, aged 48, San Francisco and A. L. Carr, aged 48, Menlo Park.
Otto Guetersloh, aged 65, Millbrae and Mary L. Bicker, aged 44, San Francisco.

Builder's Contracts
The following builder's contracts were filed in the county recorder's office during the week:

The Pauly Jail Building Company agrees to furnish jail cells, locking devices, steel doors and window guards, etc., for the new jail at Redwood City for the County of San Mateo by January 1, 1917 for $17,604.
W. B. Eaton agrees to erect for E. T. Goodsell in 90 days a one-story frame dwelling and garage at Burlingame for $3,000.

Appeal from Second Township
All the papers in the case of Wm. Musante and others against A. Cantoni and others have been received on appeal from the justice court of the second township at the county clerk's office. The suit was originally brought against defendants for the recovery of $149.91 for merchandise sold and delivered. Judge McCormick of San Mateo rendered a judgment in favor of plaintiff for the full amount of the claim and also awarded costs in the sum of $3.75. The judgment was rendered on July 1. The plaintiffs at once appealed from same to the superior court.

Letters of Administration
Mrs. Ann Redmond surviving wife of Michael Redmond has applied for letters of administration upon the estate of her deceased husband. The estate consists of several pieces of real estate in this county and in San Francisco. The heirs are petitioner, and three adult children. The estate will not exceed the sum of $10,000 in value. Jas. T. O'Keefe is the attorney for the petitioner.

Annie E. Lubke has applied in the superior court for letters testamentary upon the estate of Adolph E. G. Lubke, who died at Montara on September 18, 1915. The estate consists of realty in the county valued at $2,000 and personal property of small value. The deceased left a will bearing date of July 14, 1914, the subscribing witnesses being, Dr. W. A. Brooke and P. O'Keefe of Halfmoon Bay. The petitioner is the widow of the deceased and the only surviving relative.

New Actions in the Superior Court
G. Ardizola has brought an action in the superior court against M. Titos to recover damages in the sum of $10,000. On July 22, 1916 at Redwood City Titos violent and maliciously assaulted plaintiff by firing four shots into the body and person of plaintiff causing him great suffering and much mental anguish. Plaintiff is represented by J. J. Bullock.
G. Bonfanta has commenced an action in the superior court against T. P. Maloney to recover damages in the sum of $5,000 for injuries received by being run down by an automobile driven by Mr. Maloney. The complaint alleges that on March 20, 1916, at Livermore, Maloney ran into plaintiff who was riding in a small vehicle. Plaintiff was thrown out and suffered injuries that confined him to his bed for some time. Plaintiff paid the sum of $65 for medical attention and medicine. The total amount asked is $5065.

To Straighten Creek Channel
The City of San Mateo through its attorneys Kirkbride and Gordon, has commenced condemnation proceedings in the superior court against the East San Mateo Land Company to condemn a certain parcel of land owned by defendants at San Mateo for the purpose of straightening the channel of San Mateo Creek. The board of trustees of San Mateo on December 1913 set aside the sum of $2000 received from a bond issue for the purchase of land along the creek at H street in order that the channel might be deepened and widened. Defendants refused the tender made them and the trustees ordered the action begun. Plaintiff asks that reasonable damages be assessed and also asks for its costs.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER
D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

FOR PRESIDENT
Charles E. Hughes
FOR VICE PRESIDENT

FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR
Willis H. Booth
FOR SUPERVISOR
John MacBain

FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR,
WILLIS H. BOOTH

At the conference of regular Republican state and county central committees held in San Francisco, Willis H. Booth of Los Angeles was endorsed as candidate for United States senator.

The gentleman is perhaps better known here as Willis Booth of Berkeley and San Francisco, because as a young man he was a State university student and afterward became prominent in the metropolis.

Then the East called him, and in electrical, manufacturing and commercial pursuits he rose to be a man of large affairs.

Following in due and natural sequence his business activities carried him around the globe. This resulted in the close study, on the spot, of trade, financial and political problems in the great centers of Europe, North and South America, China, the Philippines.

He is now vice-president of the Security Trust and Savings bank of Los Angeles, and the residents of that charming southland, at this late day, claim him as their own. But that is only an incident.

His record looks good to us. Aside from that comes the endorsement of the Republican state and county committees. We shall therefore support Willis H. Booth for United States senator.

The senatorial fight draws out the strongest men of each party. This campaign will be no exception. His opponents will be men noted for their talent and political experience. Yet it is believed that Willis Booth will win.

Let each voter note the contest carefully as it proceeds. It is almost certain that Willis H. Booth has been chosen as the senatorial candidate because he is considered proof against political attack, and that he is the one man who can and will be elected.

MONTARA

Prof. Frank P. Davidson of Berkeley spent several days last week visiting his cousins, Rev. Doctor Hoskinson and family. He passed some delightful days on the beaches, and attended church on Sunday. Prof. Davidson is one of the three men—Dr. C. S. Sprecher and Harry Wagner being the other two—who founded the San Diego College of Letters in Southern California.

Judge and Mrs. Dorn, and Dr. McNaught and Mrs. McNaught of San Francisco passed through Montara on Sunday afternoon and made a short visit at the Harry Wagner residence. Judge Dorn was looking for a place for the Sequoia Club to hold its annual picnic.

The Sunshine Club was charmingly entertained by Mrs. Walter Jakob on Tuesday afternoon. Her house was decorated with red roses, her guests served with dainty refreshments and the usual sunny time enjoyed.

Mrs. M. B. Johnson made a shopping trip to the city on Tuesday. Mrs. Roland Cline, a charming little bride, is spending part of her honeymoon at the home of Roland's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Cline.

Mrs. Claude B. Rich, with her two lovely baby boys, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Frank Littlefield.

Arthur Wagner has been quite "under the weather" for the last week. Dr. Meade is attending him. The Embroidery Club was entertained at its last meeting by Mrs. Harry Wagner, assisted by Mrs. M. B. Johnson. The entire club turned out, with the exception of one who was out of town and one who was ill, and one of these sent a proxy.

The rooms were decorated with wonderful pink dahlias and branches of green. After the uniquely-served refreshments, came music, songs and recitation, and at going-home time everybody stood and sang "America," with Miss Hoskinson at the piano.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Massagil have purchased the Montara Bakery, paying a good price for its equipment and "good will," and are furnishing excellent bread, which same is the main characteristic of a good bakery. Mr. and Mrs. Massagil are French-Italians; well-to-do, genteel people who, with their three pretty little dark-eyed baby girls, have cast their lot among us to deal honestly and be honestly dealt with by the community.

Mrs. Fred George and her daughters returned from Santa Cruz on Wednesday after and absence of two weeks.

HALF-MOON BAY

The many friends of Father John T. Eagan, at one time assistant pastor here, will be pleased to learn of his promotion. For several years he had been the pastor of San Anselmo church but last week he was appointed pastor of St. Augustine's parish, one of the most influential in Oakland. Father Eagan has been succeeded by Father J. W. Cantwell of San Bruno.

The ladies of the Catholic church are contemplating to hold a big fair for the benefit of the church. The affair is being planned on a rather big scale, and we trust that it will be the big success it deserves to be. Watch this paper for further particulars.

Little Azalla Fernandez the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fernandez, fell off the high seat of her father's wagon last Saturday and broke one of her legs above the knee. The child was at once taken to the Red Cross hospital at San Mateo and is getting along nicely. She will have to remain there for a month.

Lee R. Switzer, principal of the Halfmoon Bay Union High School, accompanied by his wife, have been spending their vacation at Berkeley taking in the Summer School. They will return to Halfmoon Bay next Monday, when Principal Switzer will take up his duties again with a vim, refreshed, educationally and otherwise, from his outing at Berkeley.

Peter R. Serpa, aged 75 years, a native of Azores Island, died at his home in Halfmoon Bay on July 24th and was laid in his final resting place on July 26. The funeral services were conducted by Father A. Andriano and the L. D. E. S. Society. Mr. Serpa had been a resident of the coast-side of San Mateo county for nearly fifty years and had a host of warm friends who mourn his departure.

About thirty intimate friends of Judge John Pitcher of Halfmoon Bay got that get-together feeling last Saturday evening and gave him a genuine birthday surprise party, the event being in honor of his 89th birthday. The time passed so pleasantly that everyone was loath to leave the party, and the hour was not programmed. Judge Pitcher came to California in the good old days of '49, and after being connected in different business ventures on the Pacific coast, located at Halfmoon Bay, where he has resided for over fifty years. The judge is held in high esteem by all who know him. During his thirty years as justice of the peace of Halfmoon Bay he has gained the respect and confidence of the entire community, both by leniency toward his fellow-men and little acts of kindness.

Banish Foot Misery

BENT bones, corns, bunions, ingrown nails, flat foot, and all foot ills are caused by the pinching pressure of narrow, pointed shoes.

Go "near-barefooted"—which means: Wear Educator Shoes. And Nature will relieve or free your feet from all these blemishes. Educators will prevent your children from ever having them.

THE DASH AND LURE OF AERIAL NAVIGATION

The Christofferson Aircraft Company And the Aviation School Energetic Workers

BY W. H. ADAMS

Over at the aviation field a most interesting study is presented. At one point along the Chestnut street frontage foundations for the various buildings are being laid on the three-acre tract bought by the company for that purpose. Near by a number of aircraft are lined up ready for use as occasion demands. Tents of varying sizes are dotted here and there. The stars and stripes float idly in the refreshing air wafted gently from the bay. Students and aviators alike are dressed in khaki. Everybody is earnestly at work.

Just beyond the first line, pupils of the Silas Christofferson aviation school are being drilled according to their proficiency. There are two "runways" or courses. One extends over the eighty 200 acres of the Lynch tract, under bond to the Christofferson syndicate. Another (outer) course lies along the adjacent marsh and has certain advantages for primary work from being somewhat sandy as well as level, offering less resistance to the aircraft tires.

Before flights are attempted mechanism and absolute control of the machine must be learned. The rise from the ground is only taken up by easy stages and at prescribed points. "Flying" comes last.

On the initial trials most of the traveling is along the ground, the machine speeding on its own tires just as an automobile would do. The great planes stretch out over the body, and the bird-like craft rushes onward with upward lift and bound or glides over any inequality of surface.

If anything goes wrong the operator brings the machine to an immediate standstill. Then other students and instructors move up with perfect discipline, ready to help or to study and solve every problem presented. Finally the machine is understood and mastered—mastered as effectually as would be a bucking broncho.

WHY REDWOOD CITY WAS CHOSEN BY CHRISTOFFERSON

Class lessons have been continued here for about seven weeks. During that time there have been only two or three days when aeroplane ascensions were not made, other work prevailing.

Flights are made daily between 7 and 9 o'clock a. m. and from 5 to 7 p. m. at the aviation grounds. The public is welcome. The more who come the better the aviation folks are pleased, providing that visitors do not get in the way. It is that should occur they would be politely informed.

During the morning and evening hours weather conditions are ideal for first grade instruction, as the work is done in "still air".

Applicants for second grade certificates (required before examinations for military service) have more difficult work laid out. In their case ascents must be made under all conditions of weather and for altitude, distance, sustained flight, speed, control, etc.

Thus the real object aimed at is considered in the training.

As an aviation center Redwood City meets all the requirements necessary to be considered. Aside from being nicely located at the very edge of the metropolis, it "has the climate." For instance, it has the mid-day breeze from the bay, the tempered winds filtered in over the mountains from the ocean, and an occasional hard "blow" from bay itself near by. These are valuable assets. If it was "still air" all the time the location would not do at all.

The Christofferson people therefore say, that taken altogether Redwood City meets their purposes best, and that is why they intend to establish so important an enterprise here. In securing the three-acre tract they acted wisely. It enabled them to try out the locality to their satisfaction before taking up the larger proposition ahead.

The outlook is for a great manufacturing and exhibition center here at the gates of the Pacific, where population and traffic meet. It will not be accomplished in a day, however. The undertaking is too large for that. But even now bright young people from nearly all nations are here in our midst as pupils of the Christofferson aviation school.

CONSTRUCTION WORK GOING ON AT THE PRESENT TIME

The buildings now in course of construction will be, taken in their order from the Chestnut street entrance: Office 24x36 of ornamental front and finish. Machine shop 64x180 where parts will be constructed and airships assembled prior to testing-out and delivery. There will also be an additional machine shop 64x150 next adjoining. Foundry 50x50. Hangar 40x100 facing the aviation course, for housing the machines used by the Christofferson school in practice work and aviation flights.

The hangar doors will open 50 feet in the clear and presented quite a problem. Contractor F. J. Zimmerman solved the question by use in the building of strong corner posts running to the roof. From these the doors are suspended, the "sag" being offset through use of supporting steel rods with turn-buckles that carry the weight.

These buildings are required now for every-day use but are only preliminary to plans for the great aviation show course, with extensive grandstand and building accommodations for the public. For such purposes the Lynch tract 200 acres adjoining is held in reserve by the Christofferson Aircraft Company.

EVERY AEROPLANE FLIGHT A NEW EXPERIENCE

Each aeroplane flight stands alone, something separate and apart from all others. Each issue is of the instant—cannot be evaded, must be met with nerves of steel and smiling face. Yet the Christofferson folks have not had an accident.

Reason why? No point too small to be overlooked, no duty that can be neglected, nothing left to chance. Result—Forethought, Skill, Confidence.

Class instructor Frank Bryant, of commanding figure and presence, was also the instructor of Mr. Silas Christofferson. The latter's standing as an aviator is well known and secure. Mr. Bryant was one of the first to take up aviation in a large way.

Mr. Bryant and his thirty pupils work as one. All have the same problems to master. Nothing is held back.

Does it sound simple? Let us see—A biplane is rolled out upon the course. The preliminary tests are quickly made. Mr. Bryant takes the wheel and a lady pupil steps promptly to the duplicate seat and steering-gear beside him.

A whirr—a tremble of the frail-looking aircraft.

They rise, pass quickly out of sight.

All the aerial knowledge ever gained must be available and applied right then. There is no second chance.

Note the various stages—the first mad rush, the climb, altitude flight, the return, gradual descent and glide along the earth with graceful lightness to a final stop.

The aviators understand. They are quiet, gentlemanly, intent upon their tasks. But they know the risks and are deeply concerned in every flight, in every movement of the planes.

"SAFETY FIRST" THE SLOGAN
WITHOUT EXCEPTION

At the aviation field every action is based upon the principle of "safety first." It is impressed upon each pupil and permeates the whole organization. It is the foundation upon which everything rests.

Incident to the business there are plenty of "thrillers"—but they are anticipated and are counteracted through training methods.

The engine that goes dead, the ignition that fails, do not surprise but call for certain specified action that has been drilled over and over again.

When an aviator alights a common question would be, "What kind of run?"

If the answer was "Had a couple of bad breaks," it might mean anything from "not getting the spark" for a few seconds, to a short turn at volplane. It would all be in the day's work.

AVIATION AS A BUSINESS AND AS A SPECTACLE

Aviation now assumes the proportions of a great business. The war has settled all that. After the war important commercial uses will be developed.

And it is becoming the fad for wealthy people to own considerable strings of aircraft. That's the way the automobile business started. Look at it now.

Military planes? They are the scouts of the air, the bulldogs let loose over army and navy, land and sea. They are the eyes of the eagle, the wings of the albatross. They indicate army movements, the position of fleets, signal the artillery duels. They are dispatch and mail carriers over battlefields. Arctic snows, Asiatic wastes or sun-scorched, waterless deserts. Where can the line be drawn? The limit is not yet even dreamed of—it is as a child new born.

The Christofferson people are already busy at their other plants in filling large orders for aircraft.

From San Francisco and all along the peninsula, however, great interest is manifest in the proposal of the Christofferson syndicate to establish here an aviation center on a large scale that will be open to the public if not secured by the government, and that will be an additional show-place for tourists as well as a great proving-ground for aerial purposes.

The show feature is considered of great importance.

It takes time to work out such matters. Such a scheme cannot be carried out by a stroke of the pen.

But the site has been chosen, and capitalists have been invited in.

The damage suits brought in the Federal court at San Francisco last year by Mrs. F. W. Glennan and Mrs. Wolf against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company have been set for trial for October 18 and 19 in Judge Van Fleet's court. It was thought for some months that the cases would be compromised. Both women were severely injured. Mrs. Glennan was confined to her apartments for over six months. Mrs. Wolf was not so badly injured. Mrs. Glennan through her attorney, J. J. Bullock commenced an action to recover damages in the sum of $50,000 and Mrs. Wolf sued for $25,000. Both women charge the company with negligence.
